

Adopted Goals of the USC Board of School Directors

January 25, 2010

1. Develop an abridged statement that succinctly captures the spirit, vision, and mission of the Upper St. Clair School District that will be used in all District communications to create a shared and collaborative approach to achieving the District's mission each and every day.
2. Maintain and improve the District's outstanding instructional programs by defining and developing a customized learning and instructional delivery model* that takes into account sound educational research, as well as the emerging technology approaches and tools that should be used to enhance student learning for the twenty-first century.
3. Create a business model for USC that addresses the economic realities that impact the District's ability to sustain and improve a high performing school district and includes the evaluation of current expenditure practices along with a detailed revenue enhancement program.
4. Prioritize and embed community engagement as part of all District functions in order to receive input and gain expertise from the community and to communicate the mission, vision, goals, and accomplishments of the District to all stakeholders.

 Customized Instructional Delivery Strategies : A customized learning and instructional delivery model that takes into consideration the individual strengths and needs of the whole child by providing instruction in twenty-first century skills through new and effective delivery strategies that utilize the most recent and effective advances in technology.*
